

IMPACT OF HEARING LOSS ON LISTENING COMPREHENSION EXAMPLES

_____ has a hearing loss. A functional listening evaluation has been performed to estimate how the hearing loss impacts listening comprehension in the classroom under typical conditions.

Write your name and the date on the top left of your paper. Read the first paragraph, answer the odd questions using a pencil. With a blue marker underline all of the vocabulary words from your math list. Count all of the underlined words and put the total number on the bottom right corner of your paper. Hand it in to me by 2:00.

Listening in quiet from a close distance _____%

Write your name and the date on the top left of your paper. Read the first paragraph, answer the odd questions using a pencil. With a blue marker underline all of the vocabulary words from your math list. Count all of the underlined words and put the total number on the bottom right corner of your paper. Hand it in to me by 2:00.

Listening in quiet from across the room _____%

Write your name and the date on the top left of your paper. Read the first paragraph, answer the odd questions using a pencil. With a blue marker underline all of the vocabulary words from your math list. Count all of the underlined words and put the total number on the bottom right corner of your paper. Hand it in to me by 2:00.

Listening in noise from a close distance _____%

Write your name and the date on the top left of your paper. Read the first paragraph, answer the odd questions using a pencil. With a blue marker underline all of the vocabulary words from your math list. Count all of the underlined words and put the total number on the bottom right corner of your paper. Hand it in to me by 2:00.

Listening in noise from across the room _____%

Note: All estimates above represent how the student is able to comprehend just by listening, not when lipreading or visuals are available.